

What We're About & What's New

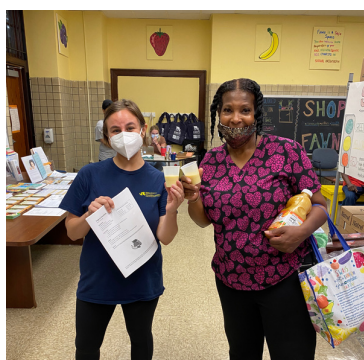

During the month of August, FAWN participated in the Back-To-School Community event with Open Arms Home Care and distributed 40 bags of groceries to community members.

FAWN also partnered with Tilden Middle School and CUA 9 to host a Community Wellness and Resource Fair. It was a great success! Interns at FAWN created three raffle baskets that carried items highlighting the message, "EAT WELL BE WELL. LIVE WELL." Baskets included: cleaning/household supplies, hygiene products, fitness gear, a crockpot, a blender, and more.

The majority of items in our baskets had been donated from community members via our NEW Amazon Wishlist. The Wishlist is just one way FAWN can offer more than just food to the communities we serve. Want to make a wish come true? Follow the link below.

Drexel University's Eat Right Philly program is a PA SNAP-Ed that conducts nutrition education programs to promote healthful eating and physically active lifestyles. Programming includes the promotion of breakfast, fruits or vegetables, healthy celebrations, healthy fundraisers, hydration, physical activity, gardening and food assistance with school aged and adult populations.

FAWN is now partnering with the Greater Philadelphia Coalition Against Hunger to help clients apply for SNAP benefits. This partnership will streamline the application process and provide technology access to those who may not have reliable phone service. Contact us for more information!
